August in History Famous People, Places and Events

August 1, 1790 - The first U.S. census shows that the population in America is 3,929,214 people. In 1850 there is an estimated 23.2 million people living in America. By 1900 there were over 76 million people. In 1950 there were about 152 million people and around the turn of the century, in 2000 the census bureau counted around 291,421,906 persons living in America.

August 1, 1873 - San Francisco, California has its first cable car in operation on Clay Street Hill. The San Francisco cable car system is the world's last permanently operational manually operated cable car system, and is an icon of San Francisco, California. It is the only transportation system listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

August 5, 1914 - On December 10, 1868, the first traffic lights were installed outside the British Houses of Parliament in London, by the railway engineer J. P. Knight. They resembled railway signals of the time, with semaphore arms and red and green gas lamps for night use. The gas lantern was turned with a lever at its base so that the appropriate light faced traffic. Unfortunately, it exploded on Jan. 2, 1869, injuring the policeman who was operating it. The modern electric traffic light is an American invention. As early as 1912 in Salt Lake City, Utah, policeman Lester Wire invented the first red-green electric traffic lights. On August 5, 1914, the American Traffic Signal Company installed a traffic signal system on the corner of East 105th Street and Euclid Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. It had two colors, red and green, and a buzzer, based on the design of James Hoge, to provide a warning for color changes.

August 11, 1934 – Initially Alcatraz Island was a military fortress. Then, from 1850-1933, it was a military prison used by the U.S. Army. In 1934 the island was handed over to the U.S. Department of Justice to be used by the Federal Bureau of Prisons. Then on August 11, 1934 the first civilian prisoners arrived at Federal prison on Alcatraz Island.

....Because the month of August is the only month that lacks a holiday, I will give you some trivia about the month. During the month of August, the U.S. dropped the atomic bombs on Hiroshima & Nagasaki. The first income tax was collected in August, & the deaths of Elvis Presley & Marilyn Monroe each occurred during this month. World War I started in August of 1914. The Model T Ford went on sale and the first communications Satellite, Echo 1, was launched in August. World War II ended in August & Princess Diana was killed in a car accident in August as well. Martin Luther King made his famous "I Have a Dream" speech in August of 1963. August is the busiest month for vacations, as families get away before school resumes around the end of the month. Fall sports practice begins late in the month as students prepare to return to school. More people move during the first week of August than any other month of the year
